THE REVENUE BILL WAS CONSIDERED

Further Hearing on This Subject by the Senate Committee.

The Committee on Finance of the Senate yesterday morning resumed the consideration of the revenue bill. The section relating to franchises was the particular one considered. Messrs. Jas. R. Caton, of Alexandria; Alfred P. Thom, of Norfolk, and John P. Branch, of Richmond, addressed the body. Mr. O. A. Hawkins, the Commissioner of the Revenue of Richmond, was also present and gave some valuable information. Mr. Caton said he represented several corporations as an attorney, but did not appear for them before the committee. His own opinion was that if the graduated and fluctuating system of taxation on franchises were put into operation many large corporations would find it a business proposition to cancel Virginia charters, go elsewhere, secure a ginia charters, go elsewhere, secure a charter under the more liberal laws of terial Relief, which has its headquarters in this city, has issued a strong and urgent appeal for contributions, declaring nat if funds are not forthcoming there will have to be "a scaling of the small mounts promised toward the support of our vetorans and of the widows and or phans of our dead." The amount immediately needed is $4,000.

diately needed is $4,000.

The appeal is signed by the Rev. Dr. I. L. McElroy, of this city, socretary of the work, and is prepared and issued by order of the committee, It sets forth the need for money, and declares that the good name of the church will suffer if the promises to the aged ministers are not kept. The amounts allowed them are already too small for their comfort, being on an average of $100 per annum for each family.

"The widow of one of our ministers, who a few years ago was prominent in our church councils and honored for his long and useful and fruitful ministry, writes thus of her condition: 'My dear husband left me almost nothing except the priceless legacy of his noble and useful life, and if it was not for the assistance I get from the committee 1 do not know what would become of me.' Another widow, and the mother of a family of small children, and in feeble health, writes: 'I haven't a dollar outside of what the church gives, and no relatives or any one on whom I could call.'

ARGUES FOR CHANGE OF NAME

The Other Side of Question Now Presented to the Public.

Discussion of the proposition to change the name of the Protestant Episcopal Church in America continues through church in America continues through the columns of the Southern Churchman. Up to this time the argument has been against the change, but now a prominent layman comes out in favor of it. Among the writers this week is Mr. Among the writers this week is Mr. Alban P. Man. Mr. Man says in part: "There is no one of us that can really at heart be satisfied with our present title of Protestant Episcopal. It is negative, weak, indistinctive and outgrown. * * You must be well aware that our name is going to be changed, and because it is wrong. Surely our faith is not so weak that we cannot right it. For many reasons now is the best time, and the quicker it is out of the way the less it will interfore with other questions and duties. We know, of course, that some good people will hang back, as they always do, against anything progressive and proper, too conservative by far. Much more might be said, but the foregoing may give some understanding of the affirmative side of the question, and we think you are willing to give your readers both sides and the columns of the Southern Churchman.
